THE WATER OF SALT LAKE.—[illegible] have mentioned with astonishment the peculiar buoyancy of the water of Great Salt Lake, and it is truly surprising. No danger of shipwreck need ever cross the mind of those who navigate the lake, for it would simply be impossible for them to sink if thrown overboard. With my hands clasped together under the head and my feet crossed, I floated on the very surface of the lake, with at least one-third of my body above the water. Upon a warm summer's day there would not be the slightest difficulty in going to sleep upon the lake, and allowing yourself to be blown about as the wind permitted, only an umbrella to keep off the rays of the sun. Mr. Bowles has stated that three buckets of this water will yield one bucket of solid salt, but inasmuch as water will not hold above twenty-five per cent. of saline matter in solution, and if more be added it is instantly deposited upon the bottom, his estimate is of course too low. On inquiring of the Mormons engaged in procuring salt, they unanimously stated that from every five buckets of water they obtained one bucket of salt, making the proportion no less than twenty per cent. No visitor to the lake should omit the bath, the sensation in the water is most luxurious, and leads one to think himself floating in the air. On the way back to the city, it will be well for the bather to stop at the superb sulphur baths, just outside the town, and remove the saline incrustations which will have formed upon him, by a plunge into the fine swimming baths, whose only objection is its peculiar odor and its great heat which requires a large admixture of cold water.

THE FATE OF A PRUSSIAN BANKER.—The London Court Journal has the following:

Not long ago a Prussian banker fled from Paris a bankrupt, after living a life of great luxury and being long known to men of taste and fashion. His salons were noted as the most brilliant rendezvous, and his refinement caused him to be sought after by the titled of the wealthy, the diplomatic world, artists and literateurs of the first rank and fame. In one night the fairy fabric of his ideal existence was crushed. The next day he was in Brussels with only a dozen pieces of gold in his pocket. He, who had but to say the word and the vaults of the bank, the resources of private capitalists, found himself a beggar in one single mauvais quart d'heure. The poor man fled to England and hid himself from all observation. For six months he never stirred out of his wretched garret; none knew how life was sustained. From a handsome man of thirty-four, in the full flush of vigor, he sank to the appearance of an old man of eighty. His hair was white, his back curved, his eye sunken and his cheeks hollow. Day and night this miserable man is said to have wept over his sorrow and his past career. He died crying. The hand of a poor fellow countryman closed his eyes, and whatever may have been his transgressions, few will remember him otherwise than as an ornament to society, and will grieve at his misfortune and blight of life. His name was Charles Ebe[illegible]

JOSH BILLINGS ON OWLS.—Josh Billings [illegible] of owls:

Burds is God's choriesters.

Tew the lion he gave majesty, tew the elephant strength, tew the fox cunning, and tew the tiger deceit. But to the burds, his pet, he gave bauty and song.

And none so blest as the owl.

The owl is a game burd; he can whip anything that wears feathers—after dark.

He is a wise burd, and hoots at most things.

He is a sollem burd, a cross between a Justice of the Peace and County Commissioner.

He is a stiff burd, and sits up as stiff as an exclamation point.

He is a luxurious burd, and feeds on speckled chickens.

He is a long-lived burd, and never was known to take death natrally.

He is a hardy burd, and groze tuff by bein.

He is a honest burd, and alwuz shows an open countenance.

He is a prompt burd, and satisfize at once his outstanding bill.

He is a comfortable burd, and alwuz sleeps in feathers.

He is an attentive burd, and during the day can always be found in.

He is a festive burd, and don't come home till morning.

Thus the owl is a mistaken emblem of solitude and sadness, if we dig into his nature closely, is emphatically one uv the boys, and belongs to the club.

STRANGE OCCURRENCE.—The Saint Louis Times gives a detailed account of a murder and the discoverer of the murderer by means of the science of clairvoyance. We give the main features of this strange but true incident: A man named Framell, living near Centralia, Illinois, shot and killed Provost Marshal Hopkins. The murderer was arrested. After an indictment by the Grand Jury he was brought up on a writ of habeas corpus, and admitted to bail in $3,000. Framell jumped his bail and left for parts unknown, and succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the officers. The father of the murdered man continued the search with great perseverance, traveling over several of the Western States, including Kansas and Missouri, but could learn nothing of the murderer. Disheartened, the poor man was about to abandon the search, when he was advised to test the clairvoyant powers of Mary A. Lucas, a blind girl living in Mount Vernon, Illis. He visited her and she gave him directions where the man could be found. Doubting her powers, he nevertheless followed her directions, and on Friday of last week he came upon Framell quietly at work in Centerville, Reynolds county, Mo. Mr. Hopkins immediately sent word to Illinois for the proper papers, upon which he secured the murderer and conveyed him to Illinois on Monday last. "Strange as the story sounds," says the Times, "it is none the less true."

SAN FRANCISCO.—A dispatch to the Sacramento Bee of the 13th says:

The Union Sunday School connected with St. James Church, having advertised a Christmas festival, at which dancing was permitted, Bishop Kip wrote to the Superintendent ordering him to withdraw the announcement and give up the festival. Notwithstanding taken of this letter, he has [illegible] bull against the whole affair. Quite a excitement has been kicked up in [illegible] of clergy.

William Fawcett, who killed at [illegible] er in Sacramento for $1,000, [illegible] tioned for a dozen of [illegible] assets.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

The Gentile Merchants make a Proposition.

16. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when you depart out of that honored city, shake off the dust of your feet.

15. Verily, I say unto you it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.—Matthew X. 14, 15.

In our advertising columns will be found a communication from nearly all the prominent Gentile merchants of this city, addressed to the leaders of the Mormon Church. It is a significant document, no matter in what light we view it. It appeals directly to the sentiment of candor and honesty of those who seek and affect to lead and control the people of Utah. As we have intimated before, the elders and bishops have brought all the potent machinery of their Church system to bear on the people, to break down and destroy the business of Gentile merchants. This course is sought to be justified on the hypothesis that the Mormons, having first settled these valleys, wish to remain isolated from the balance of the world, and new comers are regarded as intruders, if not enemies. The most prominent of these, among the mercantile community, some of whom have been singled out by name as the especial objects of churchly malediction, now come forward and make to Brigham Young a fair proposition, viz.: that if he will pay the debts contracted by his followers, take their property and goods off their hands at fair cash valuation, they will make a deduction of twenty-five per cent. on the total amount, and leave the country. With a perfect willingness to shake the dust of the Holy City off their shoes, and depart no more to return within its Saintly and inhospitable walls, they do not feel disposed voluntarily to sacrifice entirely the fruits of years of industry and enterprise. Let us now see whether their offer will be accepted, or whether the fact of making it will not single them out for further ostracism, if possible.

Supposing Utah to be a part of the free and open domain of the United States, these gentlemen have come hither with their capital, goods, credit and enterprise to help build it up and improve their own fortunes, expecting at the same time that the Government would protect them, collectively and individually, in their rights of person and of property. As a matter of right they claim that they are entitled to the protection of the laws and to the pursuit of their honorable avocations without liability, either to personal violence or organized and dictated animosity and opposition.

But if the leaders of the Church are determined that they shall not remain, or that they are to be "starved out," as one of the teachers at the Ward meetings said, they profess their willingness to go on reasonable an dfair terms. And we suspect they will neither be driven nor coaxed, nor warned away on any other.

A poor man once appealed to a rich man for charity. "I sympathize with and feel for you deeply," said the latter. "How much do you feel for me?" pertinently queried the poor man. The Mormon leaders profess to desire that the Gentiles should leave Utah, and that the Saints should be "let alone." The Gentiles now ask, how much do you desire it. We are ready and willing to make a sacrifice. Are you willing to do likewise? Surely those who claim to be Saints, who go about the earth doing righteousness, cannot desire to strip these Gentile merchants of their money and their goods for nothing. The latter came here in good faith, in pursuance of their rights, to remain here in good faith in pursuance of their rights, but if they are so obnoxious to the majority as the bishops would make us believe, they are ready to go on fair terms. They will seek some more genial clime, where their labor and enterprise and presence may be better appreciated, and where commerce and trade are left free to the competition of honorable men of their class. If indeed, it be true that Utah belongs to the Mormons, by the direct gift of Divine Providence, or the right of discovery; that it is a foreign country under an absolute theocracy, and whither the United States has not yet deemed it expedient to send a Consul, to look after the interests of its citizens; then, as it appears from the card, the Gentile merchants are ready to recognize the fact, and act on it. The Church is reputed to be very rich, and it would hardly drain its coffers to comply with the proposition made. But if it be that a dearth of cash should interfere with an accommodation, we do not doubt that a little time would be allowed on the payments and a highly satisfactory arrangement could be arrived at.

We understand that before sending the proposition to the printer for publication, a copy was transmitted to Brigham Young, but up to a late hour last night, no response had been returned. We judge, however, that there is no immediate hurry in the matter, as the advertisement was sent to us for publication "till forbid," and so remains a standing and open proposition.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Philadelphia, December 16.

About 10 o'clock this morning the iron plated frigate Ironsides, lying at League Island, was discovered to be in flames. Owing to the distance from the city, considerable time elapsed before any fire engines reached the spot, and they were unable to do but little towards saving this noble ship. She continued to burn until after noon, and is now a total loss. No other vessels of the fleet anchored near her were injured. Naval officers are very reticent about the affair, but it is believed to have been the work of design.

Cincinnati, December 16.

The steamer Pine Bluff, loaded with pig iron, from St. Louis, which arrived here Friday, was attached, at the instance of some of the crew, for wages. She was tied up at the mouth of the Licking river, opposite this city. The obligation was not paid yesterday, and at two o'clock this morning the boat was burned to the waters edge. She was insured for $22,000 in Pittsburgh offices.

New York, December 16.

The Herald says that most of the European Governments are organizing their armies and raising their reserves to a higher figure than that at which they have hitherto stood, under the new organization. The French army will amount to about 1,950,000 men. England, which has hitherto been extremely careful about increasing her military expenditure, is adding considerably to the extent of her army. The Swiss Republic, which might be considered exempt from such necessity, is following the example. All this involves the increase of burdens upon the already overtaxed masses, and with them increased necessity of revolutionary changes. The equivocal position in which France has been placed by the mistake of Napoleon, renders this augmentation of her military establishment indispensible, but the question is, whether the French people will be satisfied to submit to it very long. We believe the time is approaching when these immense military establishments will work the downfall of dynasties based upon them, and when the popular voice will insist upon such reduction as will be consistent with purely national objects.

Justice Morell has issued an order, on application of counsel, for the arrest of John Morrissey, John A. Morris, Wm. C. France, C. H. Murray, Z. E. Simmons, W. L. Simmons, Jabob B. Lameret, John McGee, Antonio Kathar, Wm. Ward, Wm. Craft, E. W. Hulz and Oscar Clark, all of whom the sheriff is directed to hold to bail in the sum of $3,000 each. The order of arrest was granted on the affidavit of Wilson B. Odell, who deposed that during two years last passed he has lost $35,000 at the different lottery and policy shops kept and maintained by the above defendants.

New York, December 17.

The Herald's City of Mexico correspondent on November 29th, says that Maximilian is as unstable as water, and it is still unsettled whether he will abdicate or resume his Empire.

The Council meeting at Orizaba did not result very satisfactorily. The idea of American intervention is unpopular among all classes, and Juarez himself had lost most of his adherents because of a report that he had granted a portion of Lower California to the United States.

The Herald's Laspae correspondent says the French column returning from Mazatlan, was completely cut off from the Capital by the combined forces of Lazada and Corona, and had embarked for France.

The Herald's Washington special says Colonel Stover, who has recently returned to that city from Salt Lake City, reports that many outrages are being perpetrated on Gentiles by the Mormons; that Brigham Young has sworn vengeance on them, and his followers were zealous in their persecutions.

The same special says the Department at Washington has received no official information of the intention of General Sherman and Minister Campbell to return to New Orleans, nor of their having done so, as was reported heretofore.

New York, December 17.

The brig Arablan, which arrived at this port yesterday, reports having seen the yacht Henriette on Thursday nearly due east from Nantucket.

Wm. Compton and John Blake, who were severely burnt by the explosion of gazaline at the Compton House on Friday night, died from the effects of their injuries yesterday. This makes ten persons who have lost their lives during the past week by fires. There are nine victims yet living who are badly injured, and two of them are in a condition that leaves but little hope of their recovery.

New York, December 17.

The Herald's Montreal special says two British gunboats left Quebec last night, having received orders from Governor Mitchell to act as a convoy to the Cunard steamer. It is the intention of the Government to station a military force on the frontier near St. Albans, in consequence of the military preparations now being made by the Fenians under Roberts. A large quantity of military stores arrived here yesterday by the Grand Trunk Railroad from Quebec.

London, December 17.

Five-twenties, 71.

Buffalo, December 17.

Palmer & Wadsworth's rolling mill No. 3, was destroyed by fire this morning; loss $100,000. The buildings and machinery were insured for $200,000. A large portion of the machinery will probably not be very much injured.

Richmond, Va., December 17.

Dr. S. P. Moore, late Surgeon General in Southern Confederacy, is said to have received his pardon.

The steam boiler of the saw-mill near Ashland in Hanover, exploded on Thursday, killing three men and wounding others.

Washington, December 17.

House:—Washburne, of Illinois, offered a resolution which was adopted, directing the Committee on the New Orleans riots to investigate the alleged Custom House frauds in that city; also to make inquries into the expediency of withdrawing the circulation of the National Banks as fast as practicable, and substituting United States notes; rejected—65 to 68.

The resolution of Ross, against the issue of any more untaxable bonds, was tabled.

The resolution of Baker, declaring against the further contraction of United States notes at present, was tabled—88 to 56.

The motion of J. M. Ashley, to suspend the rules to appoint a select Committee, to inquire whether acts have been committed by any officer of the Government to warrant imprisonment, was negatived.

The Ways and Means Committee have decided to postpone all action on Boutwell's gold bill till after the holidays.

Commissioner Rollins was before the Ways and Means Committee to-day upwards of an hour, in regard to Internal Revenue matters. He desired some additional legislation before recess.

The report that Chief Justice Chase contemplates resigning his position, to accept the Presidency of the Pacific Railroad, is unfounded.

The Government, it is said, will make important disclosures in a few days about Surratt and his accomplices.

London, December 17.

In the Frankfort market the American bonds are steadier, but unchanged.

London, December 17—P.M.

The Times this morning contains a telegram from Berlin, in which the writer says that the Pope of Rome has been officially invited to the United States.

The same dispatch, which is almost exclusively on American affairs, says that Maximilian is virtually a prisoner.

Berlin, December 17.

King John of Saxony has arrived in this city, and is the guest of King William.

Pesth, December 17.

It is rumored, and apparently on good authority, that the Government of Austria does not propose to yield to the demands made in the address of the Hungarian Diet.

London, December 17.

There is no truth in the reported arrest of Head Centre Stephens. All continues quiet in Ireland.

Paris, December 17.

The request of the Pesth Diet, made to the Austrian Government, has been refused acceptance.

Washington, December 17.

In the Supreme Court to-day, Associate Justice Davis delivered on elaborate opinion on the Indiana conspiracy case. All the Court answer in the affirmative. The question first, should the Court discharge Milligan from military custody and send him to civil tribunals. Second, ought the Court issue writ of habeas corpus to order his release. To the third, all say the question had a military commission the right to try him. Chief Justice Chase and his associates Wayne and Swaine dissent to that part of the opinion relative to military tribunals. It will be recollected that the mere decision in the cases of Milligan, Horney and Bowles was given at the last term of court, and the accused, after being sentenced to death, were released. Now the decision at large has been announced.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House met to-day and reconsidered the reconsideration of the bill for the sale of $2,000,000 of gold per week. There was considerable debate upon the measure, but without result, although it was ascertained that a majority of the Committee were favorable to compulsory sales of gold being made. It is doubtful now if any definite action will be taken this session until January.

Washington, December 17.

In the Senate, Wade gave notice that he would move to rescind the resolution providing for the holiday recess. It was found that unless this was done the suffrage bill would be lost, as the ten days given to the President would expire during the recess, and the bill would fail.

Sumner said the case referred to by Wade could be provided against by the Secretary withholding the bill until after the holidays, or until such time as would secure the expiration of ten days after the reassembling of Congress.

Some discussion took place on the motion to take up bill and repeal amnesty power of the President. The Senate voted to take it up.

Saulsbury offered an amendment to strike out all after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof a provision that the Act entitled, to suppress insurrection and confiscate property of rebels, is hereby repealed.

General Ashley introduced a resolution today in the House for the appointment of a special commissioner to see if any officers of Government have been guilty of misdemeanor. It looked like and meant impeachment.

The Democrats resisted it and a motion to suspend rules to get it before the House was lost by 89 ayes to 49 nays, there not being two-thirds in favor of the motion; among the nays were Ames, Dawes, Defrees, Deming, Hala, Hubbard, Jenks, Latham, Raymond, Spaulding, Stakes and Whaley, all Republicans. It will probably be renewed when the House is full, and carried.

Messrs. Elliot and Shellaber started for New Orleans this morning, and Dennison goes tonight.

Barnsley, December 16.

Several explosions took place at the Oaks colliery yesterday and to-day, which shows that the fire is still raging in the pit, but there has been no further loss of life. The most touching scenes of woe and despair are hourly witnessed, both in the vicinity of the colliery and in town. Over eighty funerals have taken place; 160 women have been left widows and 330 children made orphans by this terrible calamity; many of these are mourning in the streets from morning until night.

Hanley, Staffordshire, Dec. 16.

Eighty-five of those who went into the mine at Falks' Hill on the morning of the explosion are known to be dead, and there are more still remaining in the pit, of whose safety all hopes are lost. All the dead that were recovered were buried to-day; the ceremonies were deeply impressive.

Valetta, Malta, December 16.

A United States sloop of war has arrived here, bound to Alexandria, to take Surratt back to Amerida.

Paris, December 20.

The Moniteur's editorial this morning thinks there is no doubt but that the relations between Italy and the Pope will be on a sound basis.

The Letemps announces the unqualified belief that Napoleon has received official intelligence of the abdication of Maximilian.

London, December 20.

Money steady. Consols, 88¼.

The Minantomi, accompanied by other vessels of the American fleet, arrived at Gibraltar on the 5th instant.

Memphis, December 21.

Seventeen persons, who were sleeping in the building of a confectionary on Madison and Joseph streets, lost their lives this morning by suffocation or jumping from the burning building; nine were negroes. Only two persons escaped alive. The fire was extinguished with little damage.

The Arkansas Legislature appointed a Committee of fourteen to proceed immediately to Washington for conference on the political situation, and report at the re-assembling of the Legislature on the 10th of January.

St. Louis, December 20.

Colonel Montgomery furnishes the Governor with an account of affairs in the disaffected counties where the militia are being employed to suppress the bushwhackers. He says a large number had come into Lexington on the 18th with revolvers, and after some shots were exchanged, Clement, the leader of the band, was killed and several others arrested. Montgomery dispatched a squad of militia to Richmond, Ray county.

A collision occurred between the militia and bushwhackers, in which two citizens were killed.

Two printing offices were destroyed with other property. The editor of the Freeman has been sent to Jefferson City. Two companies of United States regulars have been sent to Lexington from Fort Leavenworth to preserve the peace in that locality. The citizens arrested by Montgomery have been released.

Ten distilleries in Jackson county were recently seized by the United States Revenue officers.

A delegation of the prominent authorities of Jackson county waited on the Governor, and promised that all parties would unite to enfhrce the laws and suppress the bushwhackers. The militia was, therefore, not sent to Jackson county.

Colonel Montgomery says the delegation of Conservatives and returned Rebel soldiers offered their assistance on condition that all the bushwhackers and desperadoes of Lafayette county be exterminated. Over ten counties offered their services under the Governor's call.

Washington, December 20.

Senator Henderson having received a dispatch to-day from Governor Fletcher stating that a large number of United States troops had been ordered into that State without his recommendation or knowledge, he immediately reported a resolution calling upon the President to know why the said troops were thus dispatched.

Washington, December 20.

Congress adjourned to-day until the 3d of January.

In the Senate, Pomeroy introduced a bill for the speedy construction of the Union Pacific Railroad; southern branch via Forts Riley and Smith, and Government to issue six per cent. bonds payable in twenty years, at the rate of $16,000 per mile.

The Senate debated the Nebraska bill.

In the House, Delano introduced a resolution forbidding the payment of any claims against the Government accruing prior to April, 1861, for any person who assisted the rebellion.

Resolutions were introduced instructing a committee to report a bill to establish free schools in the District of Columbia. No child excluded except for improper conduct; schools to be supported which takes property district. Adopted by Committee of the Whole.

Lawrence, of Ohio, argued the passage of bills raising salaries and mileage.

A CARD.

To the Leaders of the Mormon Church:

GENTLEMEN:—As you are instructing the people of Utah, through your Bishops and Missionaries, not to trade or do any business with the Gentile merchants, thereby intimidating and coercing the community to purchase only of such merchants as belong to your faith or persuasion; therefore, in anticipation of such a crisis being successfully brought about by your teachings, the undersigned, Gentile merchants of Great Salt Lake City, respectfully desire to make you the following propositions, believing it to be your earnest desire for all to leave the country that do not belong to your creed or faith, namely:

On the fulfillment of the conditions herein named, first—The payment of our outstanding accounts owing us by members of your Church.

Secondly—All of our goods, merchandise, chattels, houses, improvements, etc., to be taken at a cash valuation, and we to make a deduction of twenty-five per cent. from total amount.

To the fulfillment of the above we hold ourselves ready, at any time, to enter into negotiations, and on final arrangements being made and terms of sale complied with, we shall freely leave the Territory.

Respectfully yours:

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole day ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

THE WEATHER.—For several days the heavens have presented a lowering and threatening aspect, which set the whole community speculating as to what shape would be our next visit of the elements, rain, snow or wind, or some of all three. Finally on Thursday night it culminated, and a hurricane of the calibre of one of Nevada's "gentle zephyrs" swept through our streets, and continued during yesterday, occasionally interrupted with light showers of rain. Tin signs were seen careering in the air, barber poles strewed the sidewalks in all directions, the flopping of canvas signs in front of the stores on Main street, which, with the howling of the winds, kept up a fearful din. Our sanctum shook as if struck by an earthquake, which made us tremble in our boots. The large transparency of the Bank Exchange was hurled from its fastenings and lay prostrate in the street. Bareheaded pedestrians were "ever and anon" seen chasing their "sombreros" down the street, through mud ankle deep, to the amusement of those who had the precaution to tie theirs to their heads. Fortunately we have not heard of any lives being lost, or of even an accident, but have marked it on our calendar as a boisterous day.

A NEW BOOK.—H. N. Maguire, late editor of the Helena Gazette, is engaged in writing a book, entitled "Settlements," etc. It will be published in two volumes, to contain from 500 to 600 pages, and to be illustrated with steel plates. Mr. Maguire's long experience in the "Far West," and his well known ability as a writer, eminently qualify him to the task. Colonel Neil Howe, the Acting United States Marshal of Montana, is connected with Mr. Maguire in the enterprise. Considerable attention will be devoted to affairs in Utah, which will add much to the interest of the work. We hope the undertaking will be a success.

CHRISTMAS EVE FESTIVAL.—On next Monday afternoon the children of the "Gentile" Sunday school will hold a festival at the Independence Hall, the exercises to commence at five o'clock. We learn that a very handsome Christmas Tree will be erected in the Hall and that the ceremonies, under the direction of the superintendent and teachers, will be of an interesting and pleasing character. In the evening there will be dancing and singing. The parents and friends of the children, as well as all who feel an interest in the school, are invited to be present.

ADJOURNED.—The Legislature of Utah have adjourned until Monday. Very little business of importance was transacted yesterday. It is generally understood that the usual recess for the holidays will not embrace a longer time than Christmas and New Years day. In the interim business will be transacted as usual, the members being desirous of hurrying up the business of the session. This looks like work, and is a worthy example for other like bodies to follow.

PILES OF GOODS.—A visit to the store of Messrs. McGrorty & Henry, will remind one of some of those extensive Eastern establishments where goods are piled to "where you can't see," to use a common phrase. The recent accession to the stock of goods now for sale by this popular firm, involves an amount which exceeds all others, except the great sale of Barrow & Co. Call and examine.

THE SABBATH.—Rev. Father Kelly will perform Divine service at Independence Hall to-morrow at the usual hour.

And from the East and to the West.
Are gentlemen dressed
In suits from Anker's Hall;
And none, as yet, was heard to regret,
That he ever gave him a call.

He honestly deals,
And nothing conceals,
Regarding the wear of his clothes.
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows.

Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep.
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho and Montana are at all times cordially invited to call at ANCHOR'S POPULAR CLOTHING HOUSE, when in Denver, and examine his most Elegant and Tasteful Stock of Goods, which will be sold at Prices Guaranteed Lower than the Lowest.
